Re: Docket No. 14-824

To whom it may concern:

I am writing the commission regarding the transfer of my electric service from Wright-Hennepin Cooperative Electric Association to Delano Water, Light and Power Commission. I built my house just over a year and a half ago under the premise of recouping my cost to install an off peak water heater and air conditioner. I am now notified that Delano Water, Light and Power Commission will no longer be offering me the off peak programs. If this transaction takes place who will be reimbursing me the roughly $4,000 I invested in these services? At the time I built my house there was no mention of transferring services and I have never even heard anything like this.

I was also notified that Wright-Hennepin Cooperative Electric Association will be removing their equipment from my home. Will this also cause me to repair the siding on my house? If so, who will be reimbursing me for this?

I believe it is very irresponsible for Delano Water, Light and Power Commission not to provide similar or equivalent services to their residences. I think transferring services is a very bad idea for everyone involved.

I would appreciate a response to my questions. If you require any additional information from me, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Amy Jo Gorg
