DOCKET NO. E, G002/C-12-1369

COMPLIANCE

INTRODUCTION

Northern States Power Company, doing business as Xcel Energy, submits to the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission this proposed resolution to the issues raised in this Docket. The Commission's June 10, 2013 Order required the Company to work with parties to explore changes to our notice of claim for damages, with the goal of achieving a resolution that balances the interests of the parties.

The proposed resolution we outline in this compliance filing stems from agreement between the SRA, the Department, and the Commission's Consumer Affairs Staff – and is the result of a meeting and numerous discussions and email exchanges among parties. We clarify that we intend for the changes outlined in this filing to apply to all Company claims for damage to its facilities. Therefore, the process and communication changes we propose in this filing would be used with cities and other governmental agencies, as well as all other parties that we determine are responsible for damages to our facilities.

In summary, the changes include:

- A new letter notification of our claim for damages to our facilities, providing the responsible party up to 30 days to contest the claim before the Company will take further action to recover amounts it has determined are due and owing for damage to its property;
- Modifications to the statement of charges, including removal of the bill backer information and reference to late payment charges, as well as improved messaging that clearly states the charges are not for electric or natural gas service; and

- Modifications to the 30- 60- and 90-day “reminder” notices, should the responsible party not pay the amounts the Company has determined are due within 30 days of being charged.

The changes proposed in this filing are the result of agreement among parties and fully resolves the dispute in this Docket. We believe this resolution reasonably balances our need to recover the costs associated with repairing damage to our facilities with communication improvements for those parties the Company determines are responsible for the damages.

We note that the proposed changes to the Statement of Charges are enabled by implementation of our redesigned billing statement, which is currently scheduled to occur in late August 2013.¹ Therefore, we respectfully request the Commission to approve this proposed resolution as a complete package to be implemented either: (1) within 30 days of the Commission’s Order; or (2) in conjunction with our redesigned billing statement, whichever is later.

A. Background

In mid- to late-2012, the SRA and the Company had several verbal and written exchanges about our practice of using an energy billing statement to submit claims of damage of Company facilities to responsible parties. Through this process, we committed to employing our Community Relations Managers to provide advance notice of any city-related damage claims to city leadership, and clarified that our practice is in compliance with Minn. Stat. § 466.05, which governs notice of claims to municipalities.

However, on December 27, 2012, the SRA filed a complaint with the Commission, alleging that the Company’s practice was misleading, and citing specific practices it found objectionable. The Commission sought comments regarding: (1) the Commission’s jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the complaint; (2) whether it is in the public interest to investigate the allegations; and (3) what procedures it should use if it investigates the complaint.

The Commission heard the matter at its May 16, 2013 Agenda Meeting and found that: (1) it has jurisdiction over the Company and the conduct alleged in the complaint; (2) there are reasonable grounds to investigate the complaint; and (3) within 45 days of its Order, the Company must file either the resolution of the dispute, or its response to the complaint that includes either justification for its current practice or a proposed new method of noticing damage claims.

We outline the agreement among parties below, and provide samples of the specific notification letters, statement of charges, and reminder notices as Attachments A, B, and C, respectively to this filing.

B. Proposed Resolution

In this section, we outline each step of the notice of damages claim process – highlighting the areas of change from our current practice.

1. Initial Claim of Damages Notification

Parties have agreed to implementation of an initial letter notification that would advise an individual or entity (Responsible Party) that Xcel Energy has determined it is responsible for damages to Company facilities. If the entity is a city or other local unit of government, the Company's assigned Community Relations Manager would also initiate contact with city leadership regarding the Company's determination and impending notice.

The letter specifies a claim number, the date damages occurred or were discovered and their location, and the amount of damages claimed. The letter requests the Responsible Party to notify the Xcel Energy Claims area within 30 days if it contests the claim – and notes that the Company may proceed to take action to recover all amounts it has determined are due for damage to its property.

The letter for a city or other unit of state government is different from the letter for all other Responsible Parties, with the difference being reference to Minn. Stat. § 466.05, which governs notice of claims to municipalities.

If the Responsible Party disputes the claim, it would follow the Company's current dispute resolution process. If the claim goes undisputed for the 30 days specified in the notification letter, the Company will proceed to send a statement of charges for the claimed damages amount.

We provide a sample of the modified statement of charges as Attachment A to this filing.

2. Statement of Charges

The parties to this Docket have agreed to Xcel Energy issuing a statement of charges for the claimed damages amount, once the initial 30-day notice period has expired, or parties to the claim for damages have worked through the dispute resolution process. The agreed-upon statement of charges would continue to be presented on the Company's standard billing form, with several changes that address the concerns raised.

First, the standard "bill backer" information that provides definitions of common energy billing terms would be removed, as would the Company's reference to Late Payment Charges. Second, the Company will implement messaging in the "Information About Your Bill" area on the first page of the statement that clearly states that the statement is not a bill for electric or natural gas service, which is emphasized through use of capital letters and underlining. Further, it states that it is a statement of damages to Xcel Energy facilities, and points the reader to page 2 of the bill for specific details regarding the previous Notice sent, as well as the specific damages included in the statement.

Previously, while there were no energy amounts indicated on the statement, it did not specifically state that the bill was not for energy-related services, and the Responsible Party had to look to page 2 for further details/information regarding the purpose of the charges. The direct phone number to the Xcel Energy Claims Department is also proposed to be on the first page of the statement, rather than its current location with the specific damages information on page 2.

Parties are aware that these changes are enabled by the Company's implementation of its redesigned billing statement, which is currently scheduled to occur the week of August 26, 2013. As noted previously, should that timing change, our implementation of these changes would also need to change.

We provide a sample of the modified statement of charges as Attachment B to this filing.

3. Reminder Notices

In the case that the Responsible Party does not contest the claim or pay the amounts we have determined are due, we issue Reminder Notices at 30- 60- and 90-day intervals beyond the initial due date on the Statement of Charges. We note that the Reminder Notices used for damage claims are the same as those used for all types of non-energy charges, such as Winter Construction, Excess Footage, etc. For this reason, these notices are necessarily more generally worded than the Notice of Claim and Statement of Charges.

The changes agreed-to by parties include a specific statement in the first sentence that the payment reminder is not for amounts owing for electric or natural gas service. Consistent with the Statement of Charges, this statement emphasized – in this case, through use of underlining. There is also additional text explaining that we have undertaken an investigation and concluded the individual or entity is responsible for the amount indicated and again stating the Responsible Party’s right to contest the claim.

We provide samples of the 30- 60- and 90-day Reminder Notices as Attachment C to this filing.

CONCLUSION

The changes outlined in this proposal fully resolves the dispute in this Docket. Therefore, Xcel Energy respectfully requests that the Commission:

- Approve the proposed package of changes agreed-upon by parties to this Docket, as described in this filing;
- Require the Company to implement the changes within 30 days of its Order approving, or in conjunction with its implementation of its redesigned billing statement, whichever is later.

REMINDER NOTICE - 30 DAYS

Dear :

This Payment Reminder is not a billing statement for amounts owing for electric or natural gas service, which are separately billed. This is our first reminder notice to you that Xcel Energy has incurred costs from damage to its facilities or is due payment for non-energy charges that we believe you are responsible for and have not yet been paid.

Our records indicate that $136,147.00 for damage to Xcel Energy's equipment or other non-energy charges is still owing the Company. If you recently mailed your payment for this amount, thank you and please disregard this letter. If you have not yet paid the amount in full, we ask that you pay this amount immediately.

Note that we have undertaken an investigation and concluded that you are responsible for this amount, which is an out-of-pocket cost incurred by the Company. For damage claims, the date and extent of the damage is explained in the previously sent Notice of Claim you have received. If you do not pay the outstanding $136,147.00, Xcel Energy may choose to take action to recover the amounts it has determined are owed as a result of our investigation of damages to equipment, or pursuant to our electric or natural gas tariffs. You have the right to contest Xcel Energy's claim if you are not the responsible party. We believe, however, that you will be found liable for the full amount and request that you pay it now.

To ensure proper payment, please send the remittance stub below. Make any check payable to Xcel Energy. Write the account number at the top of this Notice on your check.

For questions regarding charges associated with damage to Xcel Energy Facilities, please call our Claims Department as follows:
MN, ND, SD, WI, or MI: 612-215-4526
CO, TX, or NM: 303-294-2828

If you have questions regarding any other types of charges, please call 1-888-777-3626.

We appreciate your prompt attention to this matter.
