MPUC Docket No. _____

Greater Minnesota Gas, Inc.’s
Gas Affordability Program
Annual Report for 2020

ANNUAL GAS
AFFORDABILITY PROGRAM
REPORT FOR 2020

Greater Minnesota Gas, Inc. (“GMG”) hereby submits its Annual Gas Affordability Program (“GAP”) Report for the period ending December 31, 2020. GMG previously provided its annual GAP reports subject to modified reporting requirements which applied through the Annual Report for 2015. During 2015, the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission (“Commission”) approved a change to GMG’s GAP and its reporting requirements. This marks GMG’s fifth annual report incorporating the revised reporting requirements. GMG partners with the Energy Cents Coalition (“ECC”) as a third-party administrator to assist with its GAP; and, as a result GMG’s currently operating GAP and reporting requirements are more closely aligned with the programs of other natural gas providers. Pursuant to the Commission’s November 26, 2014 Order, GMG submits this Annual Report as a miscellaneous tariff filing in a new docket.

SUMMARY OF FILING

Pursuant to Minnesota Rule Part 7829.1300, Subpart 1, a one-paragraph summary of this filing, sufficient to apprise potentially interested parties of its nature and general content, accompanies this filing.

PROGRAM BACKGROUND

GMG's Gas Affordability Program is available to its residential customers who meet three qualification criteria: 1) they qualify for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program ("LIHEAP"); 2) they stipulate to a defined monthly payment plan; and, 3) they make timely payments pursuant to the schedule. GMG's GAP was developed to serve qualified low-income residential natural gas customers by implementing an affordability-based bill credit and an arrearage forgiveness credit for those participants that successfully complete the program.

GMG's GAP participants are eligible for an affordability bill credit which was determined as one-twelfth of the difference between the estimate of the participant's annual gas bill and 4% of the participant's household income, calculated pursuant to GMG's tariff provisions. GMG's GAP participants who had an arrearage balance when they entered the program were also eligible for an arrearage forgiveness credit that was determined as an amount that would retire the customer's pre-program arrears over a period of up to 24 months, calculated pursuant to GMG's tariff provisions. Credit calculations were performed by ECC.

As part of GMG's commitment to improve its GAP and its effort to increase GAP participation, GMG substantially marketed its GAP to all of its customers with additional targeted marketing to at-risk customers. GMG's website contains information about both LIHEAP and GAP. The page provides information about both programs along with links to additional program information and application materials. GMG sent energy assistance awareness letters to certain targeted customers, including each customer that was currently receiving LIHEAP, those customers that previously received LIHEAP, and others. When GMG was notified of new LIHEAP recipients, GMG reached out to each one with information regarding GAP. When any GMG residential customer receives written notice regarding possible disconnection, LIHEAP and GAP information is included. Moreover, GMG's customer service team makes individual phone calls to customers facing disconnection and discusses LIHEAP and GAP during those calls. Even during the pandemic when disconnections were suspended, GMG personnel continued to make individual personal calls to customers with past-due balances, during which information about LIHEAP and GAP was offered. Additionally, GMG reached out to churches and community organizations throughout its service territory with a request that they also make their members and local residents aware of energy assistance and GAP programs by sharing information in their bulletins and through other means.

Administratively, ECC is responsible for receiving applications from potential GAP participants, determining eligibility, calculating GAP payment and credit amounts, sending out notification letters, and provision of some of the statistics required for regulatory purposes. GMG's personnel handle all billing and related processing; making calls to GAP participants who are approved for the program, who miss a monthly payment, who are in jeopardy of removal from the program for non-compliance, and to answer any GAP questions; and regulatory reporting.

ANNUAL REPORTING INFORMATION

The requisite statistical information regarding GMG's GAP for 2020 is found below:

- Average annual affordability benefit received per GAP customer: $385.80 ($32.15 per month)
- Average annual arrearage forgiveness benefit received per GAP customer: $34.20 ($2.85 per month). If the calculation is limited to only those GAP participants that had a past due balance, the average annual arrearage forgiveness benefit was $390.00 ($32.50 per month).

- Percentage of LIHEAP customers that participated in GAP: GMG had 117 customers that received LIHEAP during the 2020 calendar year, of which 30 participated in GAP at some point throughout the year. Therefore, approximately 26% of GMG's customers that received LIHEAP funds participated in GAP during 2020.
- Disconnection rates for GAP participants, non-GAP LIHEAP customers, and non-LIHEAP residential customers:
 - Total number of residential customers that were disconnected: GMG did not disconnect any residential customers during 2020, which represents 0% of its 8,586 residential customers as of December, 2020.
 - Total number of GAP participants that were disconnected: GMG did not disconnect any GAP participants in 2020; therefore, GAP participant disconnections represented 0% of GMG's firm customers as of December, 2020.
 - Total number of non-GAP LIHEAP customers that were disconnected: GMG did not disconnect any customers who received LIHEAP but who did not participate in GAP during 2020; therefore, the resulting disconnection rate for non-GAP LIHEAP customers was 0%.
 - Total number of non-LIHEAP residential customers that were disconnected: GMG did not disconnect any residential customers who did not receive LIHEAP during 2020, which represents 0% of its residential customers as of December, 2020.
- Number of GAP participants enrolled as of year-end: 26
- Number of GAP participants enrolled and receiving benefits at some time during the year: 30
- Annual program budget: GMG's annual GAP budget is capped at $20,000 for all estimated program costs.
- Actual program revenue: GMG did not have any GAP revenue for 2020, as it did not collect a rate-affordability surcharge during the year.
- Actual program cost: GMG's actual program cost for 2020 was approximately $20,757.13. The actual cost includes a combination of GAP credits, outsourcing costs, GMG's internal administration costs, and regulatory charges including those related to regulatory review and approval of GAP reports.
- GAP tracker balance as of year-end: GMG has not instituted a tracker for the purpose of comparison and collection of actual program costs. Pursuant to GMG's tariff provisions, recovery of program costs was not to begin until after the 2017 program year or at such time thereafter as regulatory approval is received. GMG has not requested approval of cost recovery. Nonetheless, GMG has historically kept an unofficial tracker that identified the GAP credits given since the inception of the GAP program. Consistent with its revised GAP requirements and plan, GMG included the GAP credits given but also began adding all program costs including administrative and regulatory costs in its unofficial tracker. As of December 31, 2020, the tracker balance was $70,334.08. GMG anticipates that its formal tracker will be instituted when regulatory approval is received for the addition of a rate-affordability surcharge and that the tracker components will be identified and approved simultaneously therewith.

- GAP rate-affordability surcharge ($/therm) (after implementation): $0.00. GMG has not instituted a GAP rate-affordability surcharge at this time.

GMG remains committed to marketing, content, and administration of its GAP to embody the commitment it made several years ago to improve and reshape its GAP. GMG remains hopeful that its continued efforts will result in increased awareness and use of its GAP by qualifying customers.

CONCLUSION

GMG respectfully submits this Annual Report summarizing its GAP for the year ending December 31, 2020 in accordance with the requirements of its program and the Commission.
