RE: Comments of the Minnesota Department of Commerce, Division of Energy Resources
Docket Nos. G002/AI-25-259, G002/M-23-518 and G999/CI-21-566

Dear Ms. Bergman:

On July 16, 2025, Northern States Power Company d/b/a Xcel Energy (Xcel or the Company) filed a compliance filing<sup>1</sup> with the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission (Commission) related to New Pilots for its Natural Gas Innovation Plan (NGIP) as required by the Commission's May 16, 2025 Order Approving Natural Gas Innovation Plan with Modifications.<sup>2</sup> In response to a June 26, 2025 Commission Notice of Negative Check-Off Period<sup>3</sup> the Office of the Attorney General – Residential Utilities Division (OAG) submitted comments objecting to Xcel's compliance filing on August 15, 2025.<sup>4</sup> On September 9, 2025, the Minnesota Department of Commerce, Division of Energy Resources (Department) filed comments supporting the OAG's recommendations with modifications.<sup>5</sup>

As the outcome of the instant docket directly relates to whether the Commission needs to take action on the OAG's objection and whether the Commission should allow Xcel to implement its Sherco 5MW Hydrogen Pilot, the Department cross files its September 9 comments attached here in the instant docket. The Department supports the OAG's recommendation that the Commission not allow Xcel to implement its Sherco 5 MW Hydrogen Pilot until the Commission has made a decision in the instant docket on the Company's proposed affiliated interest agreement.

Sincerely,

August 21, 2025

The Commission issued a Notice of Comment Period requesting comments on whether the Commission should allow Xcel to proceed with its Sherco 5 MW hydrogen pilot by September 9, 2025.<sup>10</sup>

Topic(s) open for comment:

- Should the Commission allow Xcel to proceed with its Sherco 5MW hydrogen pilot ahead of its final decision in Docket No. G-002/M-25-259?
- What actions, if any, should the Commission take in response to the objections raised by OAG in its August 15, 2025 comments regarding Xcel's:
  - explanation detailing the steps it has taken and will take to mitigate the risk of a stranded asset for its Sherco 5MW hydrogen pilot; and
  - how it would manage cost recovery for this asset if the industrial customer were to withdraw before Xcel had fully recovered the asset's costs?
- Are there other issues or concerns related to this matter?

The Department provides comments below in response to the Commission Notice of Comment Period.

III. DEPARTMENT ANALYSIS

The Department provide a brief summary of Xcel's compliance filing, a summary of the issues raised by the OAG, and the Department's analysis and recommendations.

A. XCEL PILOT COMPLIANCE FILING

Xcel's Pilot Compliance Filing was made in response to Order Point 6 of the Commission's NGIA Order which required the Company to file:

Within 30 days, Xcel must file an explanation detailing the steps it has taken and will take to mitigate the risk of a stranded asset for its Sherco 5MW pilot, and how it would propose to manage cost recovery for this asset if the industrial customer were to withdraw before Xcel had fully recovered the asset's costs.<sup>11</sup>

This issue stemmed from the fact that the Sherco 5MW Hydrogen Pilot will provide hydrogen to fuel a boiler that provides steam that will serve only one customer after Sherco Units 1 and 2 close in 2026. The pilot requires the use of a new electrolyzer that has an assumed useful life of 20 years, and the steam customer is only under contract through 2035, or 10 years from now.<sup>12</sup> Additionally, it is possible that this customer could end service early for a variety of reasons.

In response to Order Point 6, the Company submitted several potential risk mitigation factors in its Pilot Compliance Filing. The first is the potential continued use of the boiler for heating the facility replacing the Sherco coal generator. The Sherco facility is being replaced with a clean energy hub, which the Company states would still require heating service and could make use of the boiler. Second, the Company states that the boiler could provide service to potential new customers of a new adjacent industrial development area. Finally, the Company states that, if necessary, the Company could transport the electrolyzer to another location to support other Company and/or customer needs, as the 5 MW electrolyzer will be housed within two movable 40-foot containers. The Company also states that, “[i]n the unlikely event that there is no use for the electrolyzer at Sherco or anywhere else on the Company’s system before the end of its useful life, the Company will pursue cost recovery for any outstanding plant balance that remains.”<sup>13</sup>

B. OAG OBJECTION SUMMARY

The OAG submitted an objection to the compliance filing on the grounds that Xcel’s risk mitigation compliance filings show continued stranded-asset risks or the risk of additional costs to prevent the stranding of the asset.<sup>14</sup> The OAG notes that Xcel does not provide any information on building use following the closure of the Sherco coal units and those buildings already receive heating steam service, so would not make up for the loss of the Company’s other customer. Therefore, the continued use of steam by the Sherco facilities is unlikely to justify or fully utilize the boiler.<sup>15</sup>

Regarding Xcel’s other risk mitigation proposals, the OAG notes that connecting to new industrial customers or transporting the electrolyzer for another location would both likely incur significant costs that Xcel would almost likely seek to pass on to ratepayers. OAG states that Xcel shareholders should absorb the potential additional costs if incurred.<sup>16</sup>

Finally, the OAG also provides a discussion of Xcel’s ongoing affiliated interest agreement with the customer of the steam service. However, the Commission’s Notice of Comment Period notes that that matter is under discussion in a separate docket.<sup>17</sup> The OAG’s comments noted that in the affiliated interest agreement docket Xcel filed its previous agreement with no changes. This filing met the word of the Commission’s Order which required “Xcel must file an affiliated interest arrangement in a new docket” but did not meet the spirit of the request by other parties to have Xcel update its affiliated interest agreement.<sup>18</sup> As a result Xcel’s filing in the affiliated interest docket does not add any ratepayer protection or solve any of these outstanding stranded asset risks that parties were concerned of for the Sherco 5 MW Hydrogen Pilot. As these two dockets are intrinsically linked, it is necessary to consider the other in the present docket. Since the Company does not propose changes to the affiliated interest agreement, the OAG recommends specific changes to the pilot.

The OAG made the following recommendations:

- (1) Xcel's shareholders will bear all risks of any stranded capital costs and return should the Sherco 5MW facility become no longer used and useful;
- (2) Xcel's shareholders will bear all costs of any plant additions or other costs necessary to provide hydrogen to another off-taker; and,
- (3) Xcel's shareholders will bear all costs necessary to decommission, transport, and reconnect the electrolyzer if it becomes necessary to do so before the end of the electrolyzer's useful life.<sup>19</sup>

Additionally, the OAG recommended that, if the Commission does not impose these requirements, then the Company should not be allowed to recover the costs for the pilot from residential and small commercial customers so as to be consistent with the Commission's NGIA Order.<sup>20</sup>

C. DEPARTMENT RESPONSE

The Department reviewed the OAG's concerns and concurs that there are legitimate issues with Xcel's Pilot Compliance Filing, especially if the Company proposes no changes in the affiliated interest filing. The OAG identified issues with each of Xcel's stated ways to mitigate the stranded asset risks. The Department does note, however, that in the case of obtaining new customers for the pilot in the adjacent industrial area the Company could build in the costs of connecting those customers into the contract with that customer. As steam service is unregulated for the Company, it would be absurd for the Company to bill costs to ratepayers for connecting new steam service customers. The Department requests that Xcel clarify how it would treat the costs of connecting new steam customers to the boiler. However, the Company obtaining another steam customer is not only speculative, but any gap in service is also unknown and unknowable; this risk burdens Xcel ratepayers.

The Company also stated that it could continue to heat the buildings from the Sherco facility that will remain in use as part of the transformation into a clean energy hub. As the OAG points out, the Company does not include any information on what buildings will remain in use and what level of service this might require. It is unclear if this service level would be enough to provide the Company with enough information for its pilot to produce useful results. The Department requests the Company explain what energy usage it expects from the Sherco 3 facilities and if that level of usage would be able to produce sufficient learnings for the pilot project.

Xcel also stated that it could relocate the boiler, but the OAG pointed out that this relocation would certainly incur additional costs. As the pilot project is directly recovered through the NGIA and relocation of the electrolyzer would likely be done to continue the pilot, it is likely that Xcel would attempt to pass these costs on to ratepayers. The Department agrees with the OAG that this strategy places the risk of the pilot on ratepayers, when it was the Company's decision to place this pilot in the inherently risky location where the loss of a single customer might greatly impact the pilot project.

Finally, the Company stated that in the case that the asset does become stranded, it will attempt to recover its costs from ratepayers.<sup>21</sup> In other words Xcel proposes a pilot that could be in jeopardy with the loss of a single customer, the loss of which would either greatly reduce the data created or result in the pilot incurring additional costs to continue; the alternative in this scenario is a complete loss for ratepayers. While the Company seems confident that the current steam customer will not be lost, this future is not knowable, as it is up to market whims and could change suddenly. The Company's filing incompletely addresses this risk.

The Department initially supported the Sherco 5 MW hydrogen pilot with the condition of the affiliated interest agreement's reassessment to address the risks of the project.<sup>22</sup> As such, the outcome of the affiliated interest agreement docket<sup>23</sup> impacts this matter directly. For these reasons the Department supports the OAG's recommendations 1 through 3 from the OAG's Objection filing, but modified so that the second recommendation states:

(2) Xcel's shareholders will bear all costs of any plant additions or other costs necessary to provide hydrogen to another off-taker or those costs be factored into the cost of service for the new customer, such that ratepayers incur no additional costs;

If the Commission does not adopt these recommendations, the Department also supports requiring that the Company not be allowed to recover the costs for the pilot from residential and small commercial customers class to be consistent with the Commission's NGIA Order.<sup>24</sup>

IV. DEPARTMENT RECOMMENDATIONS

Based on analysis of the Department and the information in the record, the Department has prepared recommendations, which are provided below. The recommendations correspond to the subheadings of Section III above.

C. DEPARTMENT RESPONSE

- C.1. The Department requests that Xcel clarify how it would treat the costs of connecting new steam customers to the boiler.
- C.2. The Department requests the Company explain what energy usage it expects from the Sherco 3 facilities and if that level of usage would be able to produce sufficient learnings for the pilot project.

- C.3. The Department supports the OAG's recommendations 1 through 3 from the OAG's Objection filing, but edited so that the second recommendation states:

(2) Xcel's shareholders will bear all costs of any plant additions or other costs necessary to provide hydrogen to another off-taker or those costs be factored into the cost of service for the new customer, such that ratepayers incur no additional costs;

- C.4. If the Commission does not adopt these recommendations, the Department also supports requiring that the Company not be allowed to recover the costs for the pilot from residential and small commercial customers class to be consistent with the Commission's NGIA Order.
