BEFORE THE MINNESOTA PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION

COMMENTS OF THE
MINNESOTA DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
DIVISION OF ENERGY RESOURCES

DOCKET NO. E001/M-13-667

I. SUMMARY OF THE FILING

On August 1, 2013, Interstate Power and Light Company (IPL or the Company) filed a petition with the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission (Commission) requesting approval to revise its Standby Service Tariff. Specifically, IPL proposes to increase the size of qualifying facilities excluded from standby service requirements from 40 kW to 100 kW to comply with revisions to Minn. Stat. §216B.164 made in the 2013 legislative session.

The Minnesota Department of Commerce, Division of Energy Resources (Department) offers the following comments on IPL's request.

II. DEPARTMENT ANALYSIS

Minn. Stat. §216B.164 was amended, including the addition of subdivision 3a, as follows (in part):

- (b) A public utility may not impose a standby charge on a net metered or qualifying facility:
 - (1) of 100 kilowatts or less capacity; or
 - (2) of more than 100 kilowatts capacity, except in accordance with an order of the commission establishing allowable costs to be recovered through standby charges.

IPL proposes to amend its Standby Service Tariff to increase the size at which it may not impose a standby charge from 40 kW to 100 kW consistent with the revisions to Minn. Stat. §216B.164.

The Department does not object to IPL's proposal to increase the facility size subject to standby charges; however, the Department notes that the statute requires "an order of the Commission establishing allowable costs to be recovered through standby charges" before the utility may impose a standby charge on a net metered or qualifying facility more than 100 kW. The Commission last addressed standby charges in September 28, 2004 Order in Docket No. E999/CI-01-1023.¹ The recent amendment to the statute appears to contemplate a Commission proceeding to evaluate the appropriateness of existing standby charges. Consequently, the Department recommends the Commission open a generic to address the statutory requirement for a Commission Order before a utility may impose standby charges on facilities over 100 kW. A generic proceeding could address the methodology for determining standby rates, the appropriateness of existing charges and how those rates are applied.

III. DEPARTMENT RECOMMENDATION

The Department recommends that the Commission:

- approve Interstate Power & Light Company's proposed changes to its Standby Service Tariff; and
- open a generic proceeding to review the appropriateness and application of standby charges.
