INITIAL COMMENTS

I. INTRODUCTION

Otter Tail Power Company (Otter Tail) submits these Comments in response to the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission’s (Commission) September 18, 2023 Notice of Comment Period in the above-captioned matter, and last extended on December 22, 2023. Otter Tail, Minnesota Power, and Xcel have met to discuss approaches to fulfilling the distributed solar energy standard (DSES), most efficient ways to report on progress, and identifying potential concerns as we work toward this new standard.

Utility Responses filed November 13, 2023, reflect recommendations to utilize existing processes already approved by the Commission for selection of the right projects and the reporting of progress. This approach recognizes the uniqueness of each utility while continuing with already established project approval processes and already established annual reporting.

In short, the Renewable Energy Standard (RES) and the Solar Energy Standard (SES)¹ are similar to the distributed solar energy standard (DSES). The RES and SES processes already in place for project approval and reporting requirements should be utilized for DSES.

II. OTTER TAIL RESPONSES

Topics Open for Initial Comment

1. Should customer-sited distributed solar and third-party community solar gardens operating under a utility tariff count towards utility DSES compliance? How should they be considered in light of the requirement to acquire distributed solar through a competitive bid process?

Customer-sited distributed solar and third-party community solar gardens operating under a utility tariff should count towards utility DSES compliance so long as they meet eligibility criteria.

2. Have the utilities provided reasonable estimates for their DSES obligations?

Otter Tail confirms the estimates Otter Tail provided in November 13 Comments are still reasonable based on ongoing internal discussions and efforts surrounding DSES. Otter Tail takes no position on the estimates of the other utilities in this docket for DSES obligations.

3. Have the utilities provided reasonable proposals for how the Commission should approve utilities' competitive bid process?

Yes. Otter Tail continues to recommend the Commission utilize already established processes and approve utilities' competitive bid processes based on the individual utilities.

4. Have the utilities provided a reasonable proposal for how they will verify that the construction trade workers who constructed the solar energy generating system were all paid no less than the prevailing wage rate, as defined in section 177.42, and whose employer participated in an apprenticeship program that is registered under chapter 178 or Code of Federal Regulations, title 29, part 29?

Otter Tail continues to support the approach it provided in its November 13 Comments to utilize contracting requirements to verify payment of the prevailing wage rate for construction.

5. Should utilities report annually on their progress toward meeting the DSES in this docket? If so:

- a. Can utilities' SES compliance progress reports serve as a model for monitoring DSES compliance progress?
- b. What information should be included in these annual progress reports?
- c. When should the first reports be due?

Yes. Otter Tail recommends that compliance reporting requirements for DSES be included as part of the already established Renewable Energy Certificate Retirement Report for Renewable Energy Standards and Green Pricing Programs that is due annually by June 1. Compliance reporting updates on progress could begin in the June 1, 2025 annual update with narrative updates and proceed to including data updates and reporting similar to those for SES compliance when appropriate.

6. *Should RECs retired for the DSES count toward any of the other standard obligations under Minn. Stat. §216B.1691?*²

Yes. Renewable energy credits (RECs) retired for the DSES should also be used to satisfy the carbon free-energy standard obligation under Minn. Stat. §216B.1691, Subd. 2g and the RES and SES obligations under Subd. 2a and 2f, respectively, if the credit meets the requirements of each subdivision. This approach is consistent with how RES and SES obligations have functioned in the past and how carbon-free standard obligation will function in relation to the other standards. There is no indication in the legislation that the fulfillment of the DSES would be additive to other renewable or carbon-free standards or mandates, except that the projects must be constructed or procured after August 1, 2023, to count toward the DSES.

7. Are there other issues or concerns related to this matter?

Otter Tail has a finite distribution system

Otter Tail is familiar with distributed energy resources (DER) on its system. The amount that will be implemented for the DSES is significantly more than those currently on our system. Otter Tail identifies finite distribution hosting capacity of individual feeders and substations that could require substantial and costly upgrades as DER penetration increases as a potential issue.

² Staff notes that how double counting will function within the M-RETS tracking system will be handled within Docket No. E999/CI-23-151.

Ideally, enough locations exist on Otter Tail's distribution system near customer loads that enable us to size DSES projects below the minimum load in that area to minimize system upgrades. Though this is ideal, DER project studies of the distribution system may also lead to MISO affected system studies³ and those determinations are unknown today. Depending on project locations and characteristics, overall timelines related to identifying potential projects, accomplishing required studies for those potential projects, and getting necessary approvals after the project is deemed preferred is a concern.

Otter Tail's RES and SES processes currently approved by the Commission are appropriate for DSES

Otter Tail's November 2023 comments overviewed our approach to securing generation resources for our customers. This process complies with the competitive bidding requirement of the DSES statute. Our process brings in low-risk and low-cost projects for our customers and allows us to be nimble and act in a timely fashion with suppliers. Historically, and certainly in the current supply chain and demand environment, our current approach that has been approved and found consistent with the Commission's objectives⁴ by the Commission is best for our customers.

Continuing with the approach that helped us bring in Hoot Lake Solar as the lowest cost solar project in the state is going to be critical to our success for DSES generation additions. Certainty of construction along with the lowest risk and lowest levelized cost of energy are what is in our customers' best interest when selecting these projects. If the Commission were to determine a different approach for securing the DSES resources than what Otter Tail has historically implemented, it would be a hinderance, add costs and time to the DSES projects, and slow our energy transition.

M-RETS System

Similar to when the solar energy standard was added, the M-RETS system will need to be updated to account for DSES and the appropriate retirement mechanics and tracking. This is achievable and Otter Tail expects the utilities and Commission staff will participate in this needed enhancement.

³ MISO's March 1, 2023 implemented Generation Interconnection Business Practices Manual provides guidance for additional affected system studies that could add up to nine months of review time and $60,000 to the cost of each DER project.

⁴ Commission's April 29, 2021 Order In the Matter of Otter Tail Power Company's Petition for Approval of the Hoot Lake Solar Project in Docket No. E017/M-20-844.

III. CONCLUSION

Otter Tail appreciates the opportunity to provide these Comments and believes the already established reporting through the Renewable Energy Certificate Retirement Report for Renewable Energy Standards and Green Pricing Programs that is due annually by June 1 and approvals established by the Commission for evaluating SES project additions are appropriate for evaluating and ensuring the most appropriate projects are selected for Otter Tail's Minnesota customers for DSES. If you have any questions regarding these comments, please feel free to contact me at bhaugen@otpc.com or 218-739-8385.
