Re: Institute for Local Self-Reliance and Vote Solar Request for Commission
Consideration of Intervenor Modeling Costs in Utility Resource Plan Dockets
Docket Nos. E015/RP-21-33, E002/RP-19-368, E017/RP-21-339

Dear Mr. Seuffert:

Minnesota Power (or, the “Company”) hereby submits its Comments in response to the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission’s (“Commission”) November 30, 2021 Notice in the above-referenced Dockets. The topics open for comment are:

1. What process should the Commission use to consider the Institute for Local Self-Reliance and Vote Solar (ILSR/VS) request, given multiple ongoing IRPs? For example, should the request be moved to a separate docket, or discussed in individual resource plan dockets?
2. Are there other issues or concerns related to this matter?

Below are the Company’s comments regarding ILSR/VS’s request in Minnesota Power’s most recent Integrated Resource Plan docket (“2021 IRP”).<sup>1</sup>

Comments

1. What process should the Commission use to consider the Institute for Local Self-Reliance and Vote Solar (ILSR/VS) request, given multiple ongoing IRPs? For example, should the request be moved to a separate docket, or discussed in individual resource plan dockets?

The Company does not strongly support one procedural method over another (i.e. moving to a separate docket vs being discussed in individual resource plan dockets). As initial comments in the Company's 2021 IRP are due March 30, 2022, time should be a major consideration as ISLR/VS's request asked that potential intervenor compensation first be applied to the Company's 2021 IRP. The Commission has already approved six extensions of the comment period since the February 1, 2021 initial submittal and Minnesota Power strongly opposes further delay to the current IRP proceeding.

2. Are there other issues or concerns related to this matter?

A. Stakeholder engagement and public participation leading into the 2021 IRP filing was incredibly robust, including input on EnCompass modeling assumptions and inputs.

Minnesota Power initiated a first-of its-kind stakeholder process 18 months prior to filing the 2021 IRP that brought diverse groups together to share insights and engaged host community members not normally represented at the Commission. In addition, it convened a subgroup of interested stakeholders ("Modeling Subcommittee") to work with Minnesota Power staff on developing modeling assumptions. The Center for Energy and the Environment, the Great Plains Institute, and Lasky Consulting ("Facilitators") were engaged as independent facilitators of the stakeholder process.

The 18-month long process brought together a diverse group that included over 70 diverse stakeholders representing various customer groups, environmental organizations, economic development entities, local government, industry, the host community, and others. The stakeholder group met to discuss Minnesota Power's system, regional energy needs, and customer expectations. The stakeholder meetings allowed participants the opportunity to provide their perspective regarding Minnesota Power's future energy mix and the impacts of transitioning the current power system.

As part of the formal stakeholder engagement process, the Facilitators convened the Modeling Subcommittee – of which Vote Solar was a participant – to work with Minnesota Power staff on developing modeling assumptions. The input and feedback received helped shape some of the key modeling inputs Minnesota Power used in the EnCompass analysis. For example, the technology curve that project declining costs for batteries, solar, and wind, were discussed and vetted with stakeholders at the Modeling Subcommittee meetings. The Company appreciates the feedback received and enjoyed the conversations with stakeholders. The assumptions resulting from working with internal subject matter experts and stakeholders were provided in Appendix J of the Company's 2021 IRP Filing.

Finally, in addition to the formal facilitated stakeholder process, Minnesota Power recognized that, particularly during a global pandemic, not all customers are able to participate in a formal stakeholder process to share their insight with the Company. Therefore, the Company engaged all customers directly through a survey to better understand opinions and preferences related to their future energy supply. The survey included questions regarding system reliability, affordability, carbon-free energy renewable goals, and local economic impacts.

The comprehensiveness of this first-of-its-kind stakeholder process completed prior to filing Minnesota Power's 2021 IRP should be a consideration in any decision with the potential to delay the pending IRP process further.

B. There is an existing process for intervenor compensation.

The Minnesota State Legislature has authorized in Minn. Stat. §216B.16, subd. 10 that the Commission may require utilities to support intervenors in general rate cases and lays out specific criteria which a non-profit or individual must meet in order to qualify for compensation. Intervenor compensation within statute is limited only to general rate case proceedings and not integrated resource plan proceedings under Minn. Stat. § 216B.2422.

In recent years, the issue of intervenor compensation for Commission dockets outside of general rate cases has been introduced in bills at the legislature.<sup>2</sup>

Given the current lack of authority in statute to authorize intervenor compensation outside of general rate cases, the Company believes this issue is best resolved through a legislative solution. This would ensure an intervenor compensation process that is transparent and consistent, with clear criteria for compensation.

C. Many intervenors are already utilizing EnCompass.

Several intervenors in Minnesota Power's 2021 IRP are already utilizing EnCompass, including the Department of Commerce ("Department"), Large Power Intervenors, and Clean Energy Organizations (Fresh Energy, Clean Grid Alliance, Sierra Club, and Minnesota Center for Environmental Advocacy).

While the acquisition of the EnCompass model may be cost prohibitive for some organizations, it is important to note that successfully utilizing a model is dependent on more than simply acquiring software. Expenses associated with modeling may include hiring staff or consultants to effectively use the model. As evidenced by the Clean Energy Organizations, non-profit organizations with similar interests often join together to reduce the cost of modeling for a single organization.

Additionally, it is the role of the Department to provide objective analysis and technical assistance to the Commission, and advocate for the public interest in resource plan proceedings before the Commission. It is unlikely that ISLR/VS would model significantly different inputs and assumptions than the Clean Energy Organizations and the Department.

Given the robust existing participation – both leading up to Minnesota Power’s 2021 IRP and in intervenor’s independent modeling and evaluation of the plan – there would be diminishing returns on ratepayer dollars if utilities were forced to acquire modeling licenses for every intervenor.

Finally, if Minnesota utilities were to pay for the cost of an EnCompass software license for intervenors like ISLR/VS, that license could then be used in regulatory proceedings outside of Minnesota while Minnesota ratepayers would bear all of the costs acquiring a license.

The Company believes ISLR/VS’s request should not be approved for the reasons detailed above, and in particular should not be approved for Minnesota Power’s 2021 IRP given the robust stakeholder process completed prior to filing the 2021 IRP in February 2021 and the upcoming comment deadline after multiple extensions. Minnesota Power is appreciative for the opportunity to provide Comments in these Dockets, and looks forward to future engagement on this topic.

Respectfully,

Ana Vang
Public Policy Advisor
