MPUC Docket Nos. E-015/RP-21-33, E-002/RP-19-368, and E-017/RP-21-339

Dear Mr. Seuffert:

The Minnesota Office of the Attorney General—Residential Utilities Division (“OAG”) respectfully files this letter in response to the request for consideration of intervenor modeling costs filed by the Institute for Local Self-Reliance (“ISLR”) and Vote Solar (“VS”). The request raises complex procedural and administrative questions that deserve thoughtful consideration by the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission (“Commission”) and interested parties. Accordingly, the Commission should move the request to its own docket and notice another round of initial and reply comments to allow parties to properly analyze the request and its potential ratepayer impacts.

Background

On November 2, 2021, ISLR and VS filed a request seeking compensation for intervenor modeling costs in integrated resource plan (“IRP”) proceedings (the “Request”).¹ The Request asks the Commission to require public utilities subject to the Commission’s IRP dockets to provide intervenors with EnCompass modeling licenses in IRP dockets, starting with Minnesota Power’s pending IRP.² The Request also asks the Commission to require utilities to provide IRP modeling inputs, including settings, and outputs, assumptions, any post-processing spreadsheets, and the model manual without intervenor submission of a data request.³ ISLR and VS filed the Request in the pending Minnesota Power (Docket No. 21-33), Xcel Energy (Docket No. 19-368), and Otter Tail Power Company (Docket No. 21-339) IRP dockets.

On November 30, 2021, the Commission issued a Notice of Procedural Comment Period (“Notice”) in response to the Request.⁴ The Notice asks what process should be used to consider the Request and whether there are other issues or concerns in this matter.⁵ The OAG files this letter in response to the Notice.

The Request Raises Complex Questions that Should be Considered in their Own Docket

The Request raises complex procedural and administrative questions that should be considered in their own docket. For illustrative purposes, a non-exhaustive list of those questions is provided immediately below.

- The Minnesota Statutes provide for the award of intervenor compensation in the context of a general rate case proceeding, articulate the required findings needed to award intervenor compensation, and outline the required contents of a request for intervenor compensation.⁶ The Commission should consider whether the Request meets the statutory requirements and, if not, under what authority it is considering the Request as well as what standards it will use to evaluate the Request.
- Although intervenor participation IRPs may benefit ratepayers, the benefits of intervention must be carefully weighed against its costs to ensure that intervention does not improperly burden ratepayers. The Commission should solicit comments regarding which intervenors should be allowed receive compensation and under what criteria.
- The Request does not appear to limit the scope or breadth of intervenor compensation in IRPs. The Commission should solicit comments on caps or guardrails that could be applied to intervenor compensation requests to ensure that the cost of compensation does not outweigh its benefits for ratepayers. The Commission should also solicit comments on potential group licensing and/or cost-sharing options that could reduce the ratepayer impacts of intervenor compensation in IRPs.
- Ratepayers already pay millions of dollars in general rate case costs each year. The Commission should consider whether utilities should be required to pay some or all of the IRP intervenor compensation, instead of passing that cost on to ratepayers; particularly since ratepayers may be asked to foot the bill for future intervenors in other cases that might actively advocate against their interests.

Conclusion

As demonstrated by the non-exhaustive list of topics identified by the OAG, the Request raises important procedural and administrative questions that require additional examination by the Commission. The Commission should move the request to its own docket and notice another
